Accentuate the Positive

Johnny Mercer

An Activity Guide to Lyric Writing for Kids
This material was prepared by The Johnny Mercer Foundation (JMF) for educational use. It was based, in part, on earlier work done by Camp Broadway at the direction of and with the financial support from JMF. It is hoped that teachers and students will use these materials to learn about the magic of being able to express one’s thoughts and dreams through songwriting.

For more information on Johnny Mercer and The Great American Songbook, visit The Johnny Mercer Foundation at www.johnnymercer.org.

JOHNNY MERGERG.ORG

All photographs from the Johnny Mercer Papers or Johnny and Ginger Mercer Papers, Special Collections and Archives, Georgia State University Library.

Photograph credits:
Page 6: (Top) Hughes and Johnson
Page 6: (Bottom) Foster
Page 9: (Top) Foster
Page 16: (Top) Foster
Page 16: (Bottom) Foster
Page 18: (Top) Foster
Page 27: (Left) Frederick C. Baldwin
Page 29: (Right) Johnson

Table of Contents

4 Namely You: Who Is Johnny Mercer?

8 Too Marvelous For Words: Johnny Mercer’s Collaborators
Johnny’s thoughts on songwriting, inspiration and teamwork — and which comes first, the words or the music.

12 Hooray For Hollywood: Mercer’s Point of View
High points of Johnny Mercer’s career, his Oceans*, and his take on Hollywood.

14 It’s A Great Big World: Growing Up: A Timeline
What was going on in the world during Mercer’s lifetime.

16 I Thought About You: Mercer’s World and Ours
What was “hip” in the 30s, 40s, and 50s? Compare then to now.

18 Come Rain or Come Shine: Mercer Today
Johnny Mercer’s “patter section” in songs is like today’s rap.

20 Spring, Spring, Spring: Nature Lyrics
Johnny Mercer wrote about nature and the seasons — now you can too.

22 I’m An Old Cowhand: Character Lyrics
Capturing a character in song.

24 Let That Be A Lesson To You: Mercer Facts
Everything you always wanted to know about Johnny Mercer.

26 A CrossLyric Puzzle
A crossword all about Johnny Mercer — try your solving skills!

28 More Mercer Lyrics

30 Accentsuate the Positive: Music and Lyrics

32 Resources
How to learn more about Johnny Mercer and the Great American Songbook.

The Johnny Mercer Foundation
Imagine a boy from Savannah, Georgia, born at the first part of the last century, writing music and lyrics that we still listen to today. For example, that boy wrote the words to “Hooray for Hollywood” that is heard every year on the Academy Awards show and every night on a late night television show.

This activity booklet will introduce you to Johnny Mercer and the type of music often referred to, as “The Great American Songbook”, and it will show you how a song is written. Songs of this type try to tell a story. After you read this and learn about Johnny, we hope that you will try to write your own song to tell a story that you want others to hear. Johnny often wrote with another person and together the two of them would make beautiful music. You, too, may want to find someone to work with to create your own song.

Johnny Mercer grew up on the Georgia coast and was inspired by jazz, blues, ragtime, and African American gospel music. He wrote lyrics about simple things like birds and trains and complicated things like love, but he used language that was clever and colorful. Songs like “Accentuate the Positive”, “Too Marvelous for Words”, “Satin Doll”, “Skylark”, and “Moon River” are but a few of the over 1,400 songs that Johnny Mercer wrote. Johnny sang not only his own songs but those of others and he was one of the most popular singers of his time. He started a record company, called Capitol Records, and used this company to launch the careers of many other great singers.

The Johnny Mercer Foundation was started by Johnny’s wife after his death in order to honor his memory and encourage learning about the Great American Songbook. The Foundation’s mission includes a number of educational programs for students of all ages from grade school to college and beyond. This booklet is but one example of the educational activities of the Foundation, and we hope that you will enjoy it, use it, and learn about the joy of writing a song.

John D. Marshall
Chairman of the Board & President
Three Greatest Moments

“I think the three greatest moments in a songwriter’s life are when he writes his first song, even when he’s fifteen, in my case. The second time is when he gets his first song published. And then the third time is when he gets his first hit, a real hit song that you hear — you go down the street and people are singing it that don’t know who you are, they just love the song — and that’s really a thrill.”

- Johnny Mercer

Who is Johnny Mercer?

Savannah, GA
Award winning lyricist John Herndon Mercer was born in Savannah, Georgia, November 18, 1909.

By the time he was three, Johnny already loved to sing. As a teenager, he fell in love with jazz and sang in the church choir. He was also drawn to gospel music and other African-American folk music he heard when he was growing up.

Johnny attended Woodberry Forest School in Virginia. When he was 15, he wrote his first song, “Sister Susie Strut Your Stuff.”

When he was 17, his father’s real estate business failed. The family couldn’t afford to send Johnny to college, so he headed to New York City to try his luck in the theater.

New York, NY
In New York, Johnny wrote songs and tried out for shows. He auditioned for The Garrick Gaieties a popular music and comedy revue.

The producers told him they didn’t need any more actors, but they did need more songs. So, he wrote a tune called “Out of Breath.”

Mine’s a hopeless case,
But there’s one saving grace —
Anyone would feel as I do;
Out of breath and scared to death of you.

Johnny met a dancer in the show, Ginger Meehan, who became his wife. Later, they had two children, Amanda and John Jefferson. Johnny wrote a lyric about his little girl, nick-named “Mandy.”

Mandy is Two.
You ought to see her eyes of cornflower blue —
They really look as if they actually knew
That she’s a big girl now.

Johnny won a singing contest, and was noticed by his idol Paul Whiteman, “The King of Jazz.” Johnny was hired to write songs and sing with Whiteman’s band, using his Southern drawl in songs like “Pardon My Southern Accent.”

TRY THIS

Pick your most FAVORITE song EVER! Do you know who wrote it? Who is the lyricist and who is the composer? Once you know for sure, bring a recording of your favorite song into your class and play it.

Now, you can quiz them. Do they realize that the artist who is singing or playing your favorite song may not be the same person who wrote the lyrics and the music? It’s YOUR turn to teach them!
My Huckleberry Friend

One of Johnny’s most famous lines is in the song “Moon River”: “my huckleberry friend.” Johnny wrote those words thinking of his cousin, Walter Rivers. When they were kids, on lazy summer days they would pick huckleberries together, facing brambles, briars and sometimes snakes to fill their buckets with berries. For people who knew Johnny Mercer, my huckleberry friend describes him perfectly.

Lyrics to “Moon River” on page 10

From the Thirties to the Seventies (over forty years!), Johnny Mercer wrote many popular songs that went to the top of the charts. He contributed songs to more than 100 movies and 23 theatrical productions.

Johnny Mercer died on June 25, 1976, in Beverly Hills, California, but his words and music live on. His unforgettable personality comes through in his lyrics, the laid-back Savannah boy with the jazzy rhythms of New York.

Who is Johnny Mercer? [continued]

Hollywood, CA

In 1935 Johnny headed to Hollywood to write songs for movie musicals (and even appear in a few!). His song “I’m An Old Cowhand from the Rio Grande” was a hit in the movie Rhythm on the Range. Four years later, his song “Jeepers Creepers” was nominated for an Academy Award®. He won an Oscar® on his ninth nomination, for the song “On the Atchison, Topeka and the Santa Fe,” sung by Judy Garland in the movie The Harvey Girls in 1946.

He wrote lyrics with many different composers, but sometimes wrote his own music for his lyrics --- like the 1942 song “Dream.”

Dream when you’re feelin’ blue,
Dream, that’s the thing to do.
Just watch the smoke rings rise in the air;
You’ll find your share
Of memories there.

Besides being a songwriter and singer, Johnny Mercer was also a businessman. He co-founded Capitol Records in 1942 (the name was suggested by his wife, Ginger) with Glenn Walthers and Buddy De Sylva. Early on he mentored many new singing and writing talents.

SNAPSHOT LYRIC

Just as Johnny wrote a song about his little girl, “Mandy,” you can write a song about someone you love too, like a “snapshot” in words.

1. Choose a family member or really close friend. Close your eyes and picture them as clearly as you can in your mind. Details are VERY important when writing lyrics. Do you see the color of his/her hair and eyes? Are they short or tall? Do they make you laugh? Can you picture them in a certain color shirt or pair of pants that they may wear often?

2. Write all the details you can think of about this person down on a piece of paper.

3. Now choose three interesting words that describe this person’s personality.

4. Next, take all the words you’ve written down so far, and use as many as you can in a short lyric about that person.

This is the way great lyricists begin to gather the best words they can find to describe what they’re trying to write about! It involves a lot of thought and hard work, but once you’ve got it down, anyone who listens to your lyrics will be able to imagine just what you intended them to!
Johnny Mercer’s Collaborators

You hear songs every day on sound recordings, TV, and on the radio, but you don’t always know who wrote them. Sometimes the same person writes both words and music — Johnny Mercer wrote music for some of his lyrics. But most of the time, a composer and a lyricist collaborate to write a song.

Which Comes First, Words or Music?
Every songwriting team works differently, but Johnny Mercer liked to fit his words to a melody. The lyrics of his first big success, “Lazybones,” were written to go with the tune of Hoagy Carmichael’s “Washboard Blues.”

HAROLD ARLEN
February 15, 1905 – April 23, 1986

Born in Buffalo, Harold Arlen began performing ragtime piano at age 15. He moved to New York City in the mid-Twenties, and had a hit with the song “Get Happy” in 1930, around the same time that Johnny Mercer was becoming known. Johnny Mercer introduced Harold Arlen to E.Y. “Yip” Harburg, another lyricist. Together Arlen and Harburg wrote the songs for the 1939 movie The Wizard of Oz. Harold Arlen and Johnny Mercer began writing songs together in 1941, including “Blues in the Night.”

Johnny Mercer on What Makes a Good Collaborator
“First of all, great talent and integrity, that’s what I like. I like a guy who writes his way and his way is so high that it starts where other guys leave off. They’re all different. Every one is different.”

Why He Likes to Write Words to go with the Music
“I feel music like a composer... I understand the music. I know where the accents should come. I don’t mean to sound conceited when I say this, but I’ve often had a lot of good lyrics loused up by writing them first because the guy doesn’t understand the meter that I wrote. I’d rather try and catch the mood of his tune.”

HOAGY CARMICHAEL
November 22, 1899 – December 28, 1981

Hoagy Carmichael’s mother played piano in silent movie theaters. Hoagy was playing piano at age six. In his twenties, he was playing and singing jazz. After getting his law degree from Indiana University, he moved to New York. He had a hit song, “Lazybones” with Johnny Mercer in 1933.

In the Cool, Cool, Cool of the Evening
Music by Hoagy Carmichael

In the cool, cool, cool of the evening,
Tell ‘em I’ll be there.
In the cool, cool, cool of the evening,
Better save a chair. When the party’s gettin’ a glow on,
“N sang” fills the air.
In the shank o’ the night,
When the don’ts are right,
You can tell ‘em I’ll be there.

LEFT: Hoagy Carmichael poses with Johnny Mercer ca. 1952.

Blues in the Night
Music by Harold Arlen

My mama done tol’ me
When I was in knee pants
My mama done tol’ me
Son

A woman’s sweet-talk
And give ya the big eye,
But when the sweet talkin’s
Done

A woman’s a two-face,
A worrisome thing
Who’ll leave ya a’lone
The blues in the night.

NOW YOU KNOW...

COLLABORATE: To work together.
METER: A rhythmic pattern.
INTEGRITY: Keeping to a strong moral code of behavior, honesty.
RAGTIME: An early style of jazz music popular at the beginning of the 20th century.
SHANK: The main or early part.
The shank of the evening.

Try This

Johnny Mercer fits his lyrics into composers’ music. In order to feel the meter of Harold Arlen’s music, count the syllables of each lyric line and enter it in the BLUE BOX provided to the left.

Now put your lyrics into Harold Arlen’s music from “Blues in the Night.” Copy the numbers of the syllabic pattern onto a separate page, and write your own lyrics using the same meter about something that makes you feel blue.

ABOVE: Johnny with Harold Arlen (left).
HENRY MANCINI
(April 16, 1924 – June 14, 1994)

Born Ennio Nicola Mancini in Cleveland, Ohio, he was raised in the Mill town of West Aliquippa, PA. He studied flute and piccolo, and went to the Juilliard School in New York. While in the Army during World War II, he played in a military band. After the war, he worked as a freelance musician, getting hired at Universal writing background music. He became known for writing jazz-inspired movie and TV themes, including the famous “Pink Panther” theme. The songs “Moon River” and “Days of Wine and Roses,” written with Johnny Mercer, won the Oscar® for Best Song in 1961 and 1962.

Moon River
Music by Henry Mancini

Moon River,
Wider than a mile,
I’m crossin’ you in style.

Someday,
Old dream maker,
You heart breaker,
Wherever you’re goin’,
I’m goin’ your way.

Two drifters
Off to see the world,
There’s such a lot of world.
To see.
We’re after the same
Rainbow’s end,
Watin’ round the bend,
My huckleberry friend,
Moon River and me.

DUKE ELLINGTON
(April 29, 1899 – May 24, 1974)

Edward Kennedy Ellington was born in Washington, D.C. He had piano lessons at age seven, and at that age was more interested in playing baseball. When he was in his teens, he was fascinated by ragtime music and taught himself the piano, playing professionally by 17. Nicknamed “Duke,” he moved to New York in 1923.

On the Atchison, Topeka and the Santa Fe
Music by Henry Warren

Do you hear that whistle down the line?
I figure that’s engine number forty-nine.
She’s the only one that’ll sound that way.
On the Atchison, Topeka, and the Santa Fe.

Satin Doll
Music by Duke Ellington and Billy Strayhorn

Cigarette holder, which wiggles me,
Over her shoulder, she digs me—
Out caatin’, that satin doll.

Baby, shall we go out skippin’?
Careful, amigo, you’re skippin’.
Speaks Latin, that satin doll.

LEFT: Johnny shows off the just pressed record of the Oscar® winning “On the Atchison, Topeka and the Santa Fe.”

TRY THIS

LYRICS IN MOTION
Johnny Mercer wrote great lyrics about a train in “On the Atchison, Topeka and the Santa Fe.” Now you can pick up where he left off.

Choose your favorite form of transportation. For example, a car, a bike, or even the subway. Choose three words that sound like the item. Does it whirr, buzz or chug? Those words that sound like the item you are describing are examples of onomatopoeia. The more specific your words are, the better.

Read your list of words to a friend. Can they guess what kind of transportation you picked? Now use that list of words to write a lyric.
Growing Up: A Timeline

In the Life of Johnny...

1909: Johnny Mercer born in Savannah, GA on November 18th.

1909: Influenced by the scenic countyside, regional African-American music, concerts in the park, and local dancehouses.

1919: Johnny Mercer turns 10.

1920’s: Buys jazz recordings, including Paul Whiteman.

1922-27: Attends Woodberry Forest School in Orange, VA.

1927: Family business fails.

Late 1920’s: Johnny moves to New York City.

1931: Married Ginger Meekham, June 8th.

1938: First Oscar® nomination for Best Song, “Jeepers Creepers” written with Harry Warren.

1939: Johnny Mercer turns 30.

1944: World War II begins.

1951: Wins second Oscar® for “In the Cool, Cool, Cool of the Evening” written with Hoagy Carmichael.

1959: Johnny Mercer turns 50.

1969: Establishes The Songwriters Hall of Fame with Abe Olman and Howe Richmond.

In the U.S.A. . . .

1939: World War II begins.

1942: World War II begins.

1946: Winning first Oscar® on ninth nomination, for “On the Atchison, Topeka and the Santa Fe” written with Harry Warren.

1948: Long-playing record (LP) invented.

1950: 1.5 million TV sets in U.S.

1951: 15 million TVs in U.S.

1963: President John F. Kennedy assassinated.

1966: Color TV becomes popular; 78 million TV sets in U.S.

In the Life of Johnny...

1911: Irving Berlin writes “Alexander’s Ragtime Band.”

1914: World War I begins.

1915: First jazz recordings made.

1918: Armistice signed, ending World War I.

1919: The 18th Amendment outlawed the sale of alcohol (Prohibition).

1921: The radio era begins.

1924: 2.5 million radios in U.S. homes.

1927: First “talkie” (movie with sound), The Jazz Singer.

1929: Stock market crashes, Great Depression begins.

1933: U.S. population 122 million, 115 million attend movies weekly.

1932: Franklin D. Roosevelt elected President.

1933: Adolf Hitler comes to power in Germany.
Mercer’s World and Ours

Johnny Mercer’s career lasted for more than forty years. Fads and fashions change from year to year, but Johnny Mercer kept writing hit after hit, always staying up with the times.

Here is a sampling of what was “in” during the decades when Johnny Mercer was most popular.

SLANG:

1930s
Bee’s Knees: extraordinary person or thing
Clams: a dollar
Hard Boiled: tough
Hep: hip, in the know
Horn: a telephone
Jeepers Creepers: wow
A Panic: exciting
A Scream: hilarious
Shake a Leg: hurry up
Swell: great

1940s
Beat: exhausted
Bop: dance wildly
Canary: a female jazz singer
Cat: a jazz musician
Cut a Rug: to dance or jitterbug
Dig: to understand
Flip your Wig: go crazy
Jive: nonsense
Take a Gander: to look at
Whistle Dixie: to be mistaken

1950s
Blast: good time
Boss: great
Bread: money
Dibs: a claim
Gig: a job
Ginchiest: coolest
Go Ape: very excited
Kick: a fun thing
Made in the Shade: success guaranteed
No Sweat: no problem

GAMES:

1930s
Sorry™
Backgammon™
Monopoly®
Bingo™

1940s
Candyland™
Chutes and Ladders™
Clue™

1950s
Cootie™
Risk™
Yachtzee™
Scrabble™

FADS:

1930s
Dance Marathons
Goldfish Swallowing
Roller Skating
Jitterbug

1940s
Skimper Parties
Soda Shops
Lindy Hop
Roller Rinks

1950s
Poodle Skirts
Flat Top Haircuts
TV Dinners
Hula Hoops

I Thought About You

TRY THIS

Imagine you and your class were going to create a time capsule for this year.

Pick ten items that surround you that represent life as you know it today. Were these items around or available ten, twenty or even thirty years ago?

You’ll be surprised how many things were created and developed not much more before you were born, if not after!

Compare today’s slang with the slang of the past. Are there words you still use today?

What fads and games from the past are still around? What do you think makes some things last?
Mercer Today

Johnny’s songs “Too Marvelous for Words” and “Hit the Road to Dreamland” both had something called a patter section. In a patter section, the singer would riff on the lyrics of the song the way a rap artist does today. Check out these “rap.”

Too Marvelous for Words

Too Marvelous for Words

Music by Richard A. Whiting
I search for phrases
To sing your praises.
But there aren’t any magic adjectives
To tell you all you are.

You’re just too marvelous,
Too marvelous for words.
Like glorious, glamorous,
And that old standby, amorous.

It’s all too wonderful,
It’s all too wonderful.
I’ll never find the words
That say enough.
Tell enough -
I mean, they just aren’t efficient enough,
You’re just too much.
And just too very very.
To ever be in Webster’s Dictionary.

And so I’m borrowing
A love song from the birds
To tell you that you’re marvelous,
Too marvelous for words.

Too Marvelous for Words RAP

Adorable
And amorous
And glorious
And glamorous
Are insufficient when applied to you.
To be euphemistic,
To be euphonical,
I have to originate a million words
That no one ever knew.
I try to be logical and sensible,
But I’m incoherent in my parade;
Wherever I begin to find a phrase;
For they never tell enough.
I’ve already told you
No vocabulary’s swell enough.
What I’d like to say
The things I have in mind?
It’s really absurd
There isn’t a word to fit you.
No matter where I look,
I only seem to find
Detectable,
Delirious,
Magnificently mysterious.
You’re simply too spectacular
To be in my vocabulary,
And so you see
I’m forced to go to the birds.
The reason must be quite apparent,
That you are just too
Utterly, utterly wonderful.
And marvelous for words.

Hit the Road to Dreamland

Music by Harold Arlen

Twinkle, twinkle, twinkle, twinkle goes the star,
Twinkle, twinkle, twinkle, twinkle, there you are.
Time for all good children to hit the hay.
Cook-a-doodle, doodle, doodle,
Brother, it’s another day.
We should be on our way!

Bye bye, baby
Time to hit the road to dreamland,
You’re my baby
Dig you in the land of Nod.
Hold tight, baby,
We’ll be swinging up in dreamland,
All night, baby,
Where the little cherubs trod.
Look at that knocked-out moon,
Been a-bowin’ his top in the blue,
Never saw the likes of you;
(What an angel)

Bye bye, baby,
Time to hit the road to dreamland,
Don’t cry, baby,
It was divine.
But the rooster has finally crowed,
Time to hit the road.

Hit the Road to Dreamland RAP

King Solomon once in his wisdom said,
“There’s nothin’ quite like a good feather bed”
That may not be just the written word,
So don’t quote me cause I only heard,
And then, I coulda misunderstood.
But it he didn’t say that, then he certainly should,
Cause in this world with its kiltin’ pace
A man’s got to find a good restin’ place.
It’s early to bed, early to rise
Makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise!

YES, YES, GOOD CHILDREN,
TIME TO HIT THE ROAD!

With everything electric and mechanized
If you do get nervous I ain’t surprised.
But listen, good people, you can’t cure its
With capsules, tablets, and vitamin pills.
And the only thing to rest your head
Is a good night’s sleep in a quieted bed.
So just resolve to be good and firm
Cause the early bird is gonna catch the worm.

YES, YES, GOOD CHILDREN,
TIME TO HIT THE ROAD!

TRY THIS

COMMERCIAL BREAK

Pick one of your favorite songs. As you listen to the lyrics, try to think of a product (a favorite game, food or piece of clothing)
that the lyrics of the song could also describe.

For example, Johnny Mercer’s song, “Spring,
Spring, Spring” is about the season, but the word
“spring” could remind you of jumping. The song could be used in a TV commercial about your favorite brand of sneakers.

Using that idea, write a commercial with members of your class or your friends.
Nature Lyrics

Johnny Mercer was described as an “outdoor writer” because many of his lyrics use images from nature (places, plants, animals, etc.). He used these images to describe a particular mood or feeling in each song. Here are samples from lyrics Johnny Mercer wrote using two of the seasons:

Spring

Spring, Spring, Spring

Music by Gari de Paul
Oh, the barnyard is busy, in a regular lizzy. And the obvious reason is because of the season. Ma Nature’s lyrical.

With her yearly miracle—Spring, Spring, Spring!
All the henfolk are hatchin’—While their matefolk are scratchin’
To insure the survival
Of each brand new arrival
Each nest is twittering. They’re all baby sitter—Spring, Spring, Spring!

Johnny Mercer paints “word pictures”: a blue umbrella sky, a dance pavilion in the rain all shuttered down.

He also uses words that sound like the subject: busy, lizzy, twittering, baby-sitting all have the sound of spring’s energy and life.

* All summer long we sang a song and strolled the golden sand* — all the “s” sounds make the sound of the summer wind.

Summer Wind

Music by Henry Mayer
The summer wind came blowing in across the sea, it lingered there to touch your hair and walk with me.
All summer long we sang a song and strolled the golden sand.

Two sweethearts and the summer wind
Like painted kites, the days and nights went flying by.
The world was new beneath a blue umbrella sky.
Then, softer than a paper rain.
One day it called to you.

Johnny’s lyrics are exact rhymes. But some songs today use near rhymes like “home/alone,” or “time/find.” Notice how the “o” sound in “home” is the same sound as the “o” in “alone.” But “home” ends with an “m” and “alone” ends with an “n” sound. These are not exact rhymes but are near rhymes. Can you tell why “sneak/find” are near rhymes?

A Lyrical Miracle

Why do so many song lyrics rhyme? Rhymes make lyrics easier to understand and memorable when you hear them. Rhymes also give words a musical quality. Try reading “Spring, Spring, Spring!” out loud. Even if you don’t know the melody of the song, you can hear how the words have a “tune” of their own.

Some words that are spelled alike don’t rhyme: Bough/through, cant/want. Can you think of other examples?

There are single rhymes (sea/me, sky/by), double rhymes (busy/lizzy, reason/season) and triple rhymes (lyrics/miracle).

Rhyming words don’t need to be spelled alike: true/do/new. Can you add more rhymes to this list that spell the “oo” sound in a different way?

TRY THIS

1. Sit outside for 3 minutes without saying a word.
2. Write down all the things you see. What do you hear? What do you smell? How do you feel?
3. Now try writing a lyric using all of the things you described in your three minute experience.

If you’re feeling brave, try singing a melody with the words you just wrote. Don’t think about the notes, just what comes naturally to you. You may have just written a smash hit song!
Character Lyrics

Some of Johnny Mercer’s lyrics describe a particular character - a “photograph in words”:

I’m An Old Cowhand
(From the Rio Grande)
Music by Johnny Mercer

I’m an old cowhand
From the Rio Grande,
But my legs ain’t bowed
And my cheeks ain’t tanned.
I’m a cowboy who never saw a cow,
Never roped a steer ’cause I don’t know how,
And I sho’ ain’t fixin’ to start in now.
Yippy I O K I Ay.
Yippy I O K I Ay.

Laura
Music by David Raksin

Laura is the face in the misty light,
Footsteps that you hear down the hall,
The laugh that floats on a summer night
That you can never quite recall.

Lazybones
Music by Hugo Carlin

Long as there is chicken gravy on your rice
Ev’rything is nice.
Long as there’s watermelon on the vine,
Ev’rything is fine.
You got no time to work,
You got no time to play,
Busy doin’ nothin’ all the live long day.
You won’t ever change no matter what I say.
You’re just made that way.

Lazybones, sleepin’ in the sun
How you ‘spec’ to get your day’s work done?
Never get your day’s work done,
Sleepin’ in the noonday sun.

Try This

Write a lyric about your favorite character from a book, TV show or movie.

1. Make three word lists:
   - Adjectives that describe the character.
   - Nouns that are connected with him or her (objects, places, pieces of clothing, etc.).
   - Verbs that describe what he or she likes to do.

2. Make a list of words that he or she uses all the time. Does he or she have a favorite saying or phrase? Try to capture the way he or she speaks.

3. Write your lyric.
   - Some possible ideas to start with are:
     A lyric that is in the person’s own words, like “I’m An Old Cowhand.” How does he or she describe himself?
     A lyric that describes the person using a list (“Footsteps you hear down the hall” “Laugh that floats on a summer night”)
     An lyric that gives that person advice, like “Accentuate the Positive.”
Mercer Facts

Johnny Mercer wrote more than 1,400 songs. If you listened to a different Johnny Mercer song every day, it would take you more than four years to listen to them all.

And the Academy Award Goes to... Johnny was nominated for an Oscar eighteen times for Best Song, and won four times.

Jeepers Creepers, 1938
I’d Know You Anywhere, 1940
Love Of My Life, 1940
Blues In The Night, 1941
Daddy Beloved, 1943
My Shining Hour, 1943
That Old Black Magic, 1943
Accentuate The Positive, 1946
On The Atchison, Topeka and the Santa Fe, 1946
In The Cool, Cool, Cool of the Evening, 1951
Something’s Gotta Give, 1955
The Facts of Life, 1960
Moon River, 1961
Days of Wine and Roses, 1962
Charade, 1963
The Sweetheart Tree, 1965
Whistling Away The Dark, 1970
Life Is What You Make It, 1971

Johnny Mercer on What It’s Like to Write Lyrics

In the 1940s, he had his own radio show, Johnny Mercer’s Music Shop.

Johnny Mercer liked to paint with watercolors to relax.

Johnny Mercer never learned to read or write music, and played the piano with one finger.

When he first moved to New York, Johnny worked as a messenger on Wall Street.

Mercer liked to tell the story that when his kids were young, Ginger would tell them to be quiet because “Daddy’s working” — and he would be lying down on the couch, with his eyes shut and a legal pad on his chest.

Johnny Mercer liked to write in the morning, after a good night’s sleep.

20 of Johnny’s Biggest Hits...

Accentuate the Positive
Blues In the Night
Come Rain or Come Shine
Days of Wine and Roses
Dream
Fools Rush In
Goody Goody
Hooray For Hollywood
In the Cool, Cool, Cool of the Evening
Jeepers Creepers
Laura
Moon River
My Shining Hour
On the Atchison, Topeka and the Santa Fe
One For My Baby (And One More For the Road)
Statin Doll
Skydalk
Something’s Gotta Give
That Old Black Magic
Too Marvelous For Words

What is a Hit?

A GOLD RECORD is one that sells 500,000 copies.

If it sells a million copies, it is PLATINUM.

(Platinum is a silvery precious metal used in jewelry.)

Try This

Johnny Mercer liked to write in the morning, after a good night’s sleep.

Notice how your mouth is open wider when you say “ah” than when you say “ee” or “oo.” Most of the time, “open” vowels are easier to sing than “closed” vowels. Lyricists try to use as many open vowels as they can. This can be hard to do, because a lot of songs use the words “me” and “you” — and “ee” and “oo” are “closed” vowels.

SAY “AH”
Cross Lyric Puzzle

Now that you’ve had a chance to read through and participate in all of the exercises in the book, try to complete this puzzle! Have fun!

ACROSS
1. An early style of jazz music, well known in the 1920s
3. When one word sounds the same as another because they share the same vowel sound
4. A building where you go to see great performances like plays, musicals and dance
8. Words that sound like the object they describe (ie, fizz, whirr, buzz)
9. Honesty. When you do the right thing you have __________.
10. Thirties slang for “exciting.” Any “young mechanic can be a __________.”
12. Someone who writes the words to a song
13. Johnny Mercer’s middle name
14. Another word for stanza, or the part of a song that comes before the chorus
15. __________ for Hollywood (backwards)
18. Johnny Mercer worked with many different __________ (plural, people who write music)
19. The nickname for Johnny Mercer’s daughter, “__________ Is Two,”
22. Section of a lyric or poem, usually 4 to 8 lines long
23. “Just watch the smoke rings rise in the __________” (from “Dream”)
24. Mercer collaborator __________ Whiting
27. A variety show
28. “A blossom covered __________” (from “Skylark”) (backwards)
29. The main or early part. “The __________ o’ the night” (backwards)
30. Mrs. Mercer

DOWN
1. A rhythmic pattern (backwards)
2. “It’s a __________ Big World”
5. The famous lyricist and composer who this book is about
6. Where 5 Down was born
7. Record company founded in 1942
11. A repeated section of a song
16. The nickname for the Academy Award
17. To work with someone else is to __________
20. Thirties star __________ Temple (backwards)
21. Composer Harry __________
25. Composer Harold __________
26. Donald __________
You Must Have Been a Beautiful Baby

Music by Harry Warren

Does your mother realize
The stark deliver'd quite a prize
The day he left you on the family tree?

Does your dad appreciate
That you are merely super-great,
The miracle of any century?

If they don't, just send them both to me.

You must have been a beautiful baby,
You must have been a wonderful child.

When you were only startin'
To go to kindergarten,
I bet you gave the little boys wild.

And when it came to winning blue ribbons,
You must have shown the other kids how,
I can see the judges' eyes
As they handed you the prize.
I bet you made the cutest bow!

Oh you must have been a beautiful baby.
'Cause, baby, look at you now!

That Old Black Magic

Music by Harold Arlen

That old black magic has me in its spell,
That old black magic that you weave so well.
Those icy fingers up and down my spine
The same old witchcraft when your eyes meet mine.

The same old tingle that I feel inside,
And then that elevator starts its ride,
And down and down I go,
'Round and 'round I go.
Like a leaf that's caught in the tide.

I should stay away,
But what can I do?
I hear your name
And I'm aflame.
Alas with such a burning desire
That only you can tire.
Can put out the fire.

For you're the lover I have waited for,
The mate that fate had me created for,
And every time your lips meet mine,
Darling, down and down I go,
'Round and 'round I go.
In a spin,
Loving the spin I'm in
Under that old black magic called love!

I'm Old Fashioned

Music by Jerome Kern

I'm not such a clever one
About the latest fads.
I admit I was never one
Adored by local fads.
Not that I ever try to be a saint,
I'm the type that they classify as quaint.

I'm old fashioned,
I love the moonlight,
I love the old fashioned things:
The sound of rain,
Upon a windowpane,
The stary song that April sings.
This year's fancies
Are passing fancies,
But sighing sighs, holding hands,
These my heart understands.
I'm old fashioned,
But I don't mind it,
That's how I want to be,
As long as you agree
To stay old fashioned with me.

I Remember You

Music by Victor Bosewanger

Was it in Tahiti?
Were we on the Nile?
Long, long ago, say an hour or so,
I recall that I saw your smile.

I remember you -
You're the one who made my dream come true
A few kisses ago, I remember you.
You're the one who said, "I love you, too,
I did, didn't you know?"

I remember, too, a distant bell
And stars that fell like rain out of the blue.

When my life is through
And the angels ask me to recall
The thrill of them all,
Then I shall tell them
I remember you.

Song: Johnny with Margaret Whiting

Fools Rush In

Music by John Block

“Romance is a game for fools,”
I used to say.
A game I thought I’d never play.
“Romance is a game for fools,”
I said and grinned.
Then you passed by,
And here am I
Throwing caution to the wind.

Fools rush in
Where angels fear to tread,
And so I come to you, my love,
My heart above my head.

Though I see
The danger there,
If there’s a chance for me
Then I don’t care.
Fools rush in
Where wise men never go,
But wise men never fall in love.
So now are they to know?
When we met,
I felt my life begin;
So open up your heart
And let this fool rush in.
AC-CENT-TCHU-ATE THE POSITIVE

WORDS BY JOHNNY MERCER  MUSIC BY HAROLD ARLEN

GATHER 'ROUND ME. EV-'RY BUO-Y. GATHER 'ROUND ME WHILE I PREACH SOME

FEEL A SER-MON COM-IN' ON ME. THE TOP-IC WILL BE SIN AND THAT'S WHAT I'M "A-BIN" IF YOU

WAN-NA HEAR MY STO-RY THEN SET-TLE BACK AND JUST SET-TIGHT

WHILE I START RE-VIE-W-ING THE AT-TI-TUDE OF DO-IN' THE RIGHT.

YOU'VE GOT TO AC-CENT-

TO THE AF-FIRM-A-TIVE, DON'T MESS WITH MIS-TER IN-BE-TWEEN. NO!

TO THE AF-FIRM-A-TIVE, DON'T MESS WITH MIS-TER IN-BE-TWEEN. NO!

TO THE AF-FIRM-A-TIVE, DON'T MESS WITH MIS-TER IN-BE-TWEEN. NO!
Books:

Music Featuring Johnny Mercer:
Midnight in the Garden of Good and Evil: Music From and Inspired By the Motion Picture, Various Artists - Warner Brothers, 1997.
Ella Fitzgerald Sings the Johnny Mercer Songbook - Verve, 1997 (original release date 1964).
Seven Brides for Seven Brothers: Original Motion Picture Soundtrack - Rhino Movie Music, 1996.
Two of a Kind, Bobbie Darin and Johnny Mercer - Atlantic, 1990 (original release date 1961).
Moon River: Johnny Mercer Sings the Johnny Mercer Songbook - Sanctuary, 2009.

Films Featuring the Music of Johnny Mercer:
Blues in the Night starring Priscilla Lane and Richard Whorf, 1941. Released by Warner Brothers.
Breakfast At Tiffany’s starring Audrey Hepburn, 1961. Released by Paramount.
Daddy Long Legs starring Fred Astaire and Leslie Caron, 1955. Released by Twentieth Century Fox.
Li’l Abner based on comic strip by Al Capp, 1959. Released by Paramount.
Rhythm On the Range starring Bing Crosby, 1936. Released by Universal Studios.
Robin Hood animated film starring Phil Harris, 1973. Released by Walt Disney Studios.
Top Banana starring Phil Silvers, 1954. Released by MGM Studios.

Web Sites:
The Johnny Mercer Foundation:
http://www.johnnymercerfoundation.org
http://www.johnnym Mercer.org
Johnny Mercer Collections at Georgia State University:
http://library.gsu.edu/m Mercer
Johnny Mercer Research Guide at Georgia State University:
http://research.library.gsu.edu/m Mercer

Resources